Russet Class visited Wells Cathedral on Wednesday for a Science, Sound and Singing Day. The children had a tour of the Cathedral followed by workshops on singing and playing a WOOFYT (Wooden One-octave Organ for Young Technologists). They learned how breathing techniques help us project our voices and also how pumps, valves and air pressure produce sound from the WOOFYT. The children represented the school brilliantly and had the opportunity to sing Let's Go Fly a Kite in the quire of the cathedral! They sounded brilliant!

Both Bramley and Russet children have also been enthusiastically planning and making their ice creams, confidently putting their scientific knowledge into practice.
